PTA Update

Next week the school is participating in National Science Week. Teachers are looking for volunteers (parents or family members) who have science at the forefront of their working life. No garda vetting needed for the visitors as this is an event in school. If you are interested, please contact james@powerownet.com Time for cleaning out the [...]

Lime & Hazel Class Update

We had a visitor this week from 'Biodiversity for Schools'. It was a nature workshop all about 'Treemendous Trees'. We learned that there are three trillion trees in the world. We looked at seeds, branches and we went outside to look at the trees around our school grounds. It was really interesting and we even [...]

Green Schools Update

This week our Green School Committee met to discuss how recycling is going in our classrooms. We created a schedule for bin checkers. The bin checkers did a scan of all bins in classrooms yesterday. The results showed that the majority of classes were putting waste from their classrooms into the correct bins- general waste, recycling and [...]
